

DESPRE UTILITATEA STUDIERII DREPTULUI ROMAN

Author: Aurelia GIDRO*
Author: Romulus GIDRO

Abstract: The authors tackle the issue of studying Roman law by those who prepare for a legal career. They underline the manner in which the Romans laid the foundations of a creation, which has lasted up to our times, being the only legal system representing more than a purely historical character. The huge Roman legal construction, the lasting of certain legal institutions and principles impose the study of Roman law with a double justification: one of legal education and one of teaching consideration. The authors militate for a significant increase in the importance granted to the study of Roman law in the Romanian legal study system.*
